

Considering Choice in the Classroom

1. I would be willing to implement the following types of choices (check all that apply):
 Within Task Between Task
 Task Order External Factors
2. During what content areas, times of day, days of the week, etc. would students benefit from improved on-task behavior or higher rates of engagement?
3. Name an upcoming topic or unit of study (related to your response to question 2) during which you could implement instructional choice.
4. Describe a feasible choice you could implement.
5. What do I need to consider about individual student or group needs? Will my students need instruction or support in decision-making? If so, how will I make sure that occurs?
6. What materials do I need to implement this choice?
7. How will I grade students? Do I already have a plan/rubric/system in place that aligns with this choice or do I need to create something new?
8. What else do I need to know, learn, or consider before implementing this choice?